WELCOME

Welcome, Family and Friends

The University of Louisiana at Lafayette welcomes you, the families and friends of our distinguished graduates. UL Lafayette isn't just a university. It is a community and you are an important part of it.

Since its founding in 1898, the University has been dedicated to improving the lives of its students.

We join you in honoring our graduates and celebrating their accomplishments as they begin a new chapter in their lives.

Walk of Honor

Visitors to the UL Lafayette campus enjoy looking for graduates' names on the Walk of Honor. The walkway, which begins near Martin Hall and surrounds the Quad, is paved with bricks engraved with graduates' names, arranged alphabetically by year.

The Walk of Honor began with an idea from 1987 Alumni Association President Kenneth Ardoin. A groundbreaking was held in 1991.

About 2,300 students are graduated each academic year.

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT SAVOIE TO NEW GRADUATES

On behalf of the faculty and staff of the University, I offer congratulations.

Your presence here signifies that you've met all the scholastic requirements necessary to earn an academic degree. But your diploma means so much more.

For many of you, it means that you have gained knowledge and experience that have enabled you to view the world in a different way. It's almost impossible to graduate from a university unchanged because universities are all about change. They're about enlightenment.

Over the past few years here, you have learned critical thinking skills that you will need to succeed in your chosen profession and for a lifetime of thoughtful citizenship.

You have become scholars who can interpret and analyze information to develop new concepts. You have gained the ability to apply what you've learned to solve problems. And, regardless of your major, you have been exposed to some core principles of the sciences and the humanities.

You have probably had the opportunity to see the benefits of collaborating with others. Some of the best ideas emerge at the crossroads of knowledge.

As you know, some of the most important lessons aren't found in textbooks or classrooms. That's one reason the University concentrates on assembling a diverse faculty, staff and student body. Through interactions with others who have different backgrounds, we are reminded of how much we have in common as members of the human race. Education is the best antidote for prejudice.

Community service has become a hallmark of a UL Lafayette education. Our students reach out to help others, and by doing so, learn how much power one person has to effect positive change.

Keven Carey, a contributing writer to The Chronicle of Higher Education, made an interesting observation recently in an essay about universities.

"We love our colleges not for what they are but for what they represent – beauty, truth, justice, each generation's profound obligation to the next," he wrote. "Colleges are what great societies build."

We hope you graduate today with that sense of obligation to help the next generation of UL Lafayette students, just as previous generations helped you.

We wish you all the best and look forward to your continued success.

President

Dr. E. Joseph Savoie became the University's sixth president in 2008. Under his leadership, the University of Louisiana at Lafayette continues to concentrate on providing students with a high-quality education and a fulfilling college experience.

The University's president is known for successfully building strategic partnerships, especially within higher education. He served as Louisiana's Commissioner of Higher Education for 12 years, providing advice and policy direction for higher education across the state.

The president earned bachelor's and master's degrees from UL Lafayette, where he previously served as the University's first Vice President for University Advancement. He also holds a doctorate in educational leadership from Columbia University's Teacher's College in New York.

He is married to Gail Heinbach Savoie. They have a son, Adam, and a daughter, Jennifer Blaire Savoie Saulnier. The Savoies are the proud grandparents of Addison Marie Saulnier.

UL LAFAYETTE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

In 1903, the first graduating class of the Southwestern Louisiana Industrial Institute organized the Alumni Association. Those 18 graduates began a tradition of pride and support for their alma mater and maintaining connections with one another.

Those connections continue with the University of Louisiana at Lafayette graduating class of Fall 2014. Your experience with the Alumni Association begins upon graduation and stays with you throughout your life. Your Alumni Association membership is complimentary for one year following your graduation. Other alumni may also join the Alumni Association by contributing to the Alumni Loyalty Fund. The Loyalty Fund supports academic and student programs, as well as alumni programs. The Alumni Association also serves the University in many ways; by recruiting students and investing in endowed scholarships.

So whether you choose to stay local or relocate afar, there are alumni clubs and chapters in almost every state. What better way to network with fellow alums and meet fellow Ragin' Cajuns than by attending a club or chapter event in your area. UL Lafayette alumni are ambassadors of our institution its values and its spirit.

Please stay informed about what's happening on campus or in your area! Throughout the year, the Alumni Association disseminates information about news and events. Stay current with us, so we may keep you current about your alma mater! (You may do so by logging on to our website at LOUISIANAalumni.org)

Alumni and friends contribute to the University of Louisiana at Lafayette for many valid reasons. They believe in lifelong learning. They believe in the hope of the future, which a quality education provides. So many contributions are made for the betterment of our University. Whether it be attending a University function or showing your pride by wearing red and white, you are the key to the University's progress. Remember...you are the past, present, and future of UL Lafayette.

FALL 2014 OUTSTANDING GRADUATES

Each semester, the UL Lafayette Alumni Association honors the University's outstanding graduates. One graduate is selected to represent each of UL Lafayette's eight colleges. They are selected by their respective deans and other faculty for their accomplishments and are recognized during Commencement ceremonies.

One of these graduates receives the UL Lafayette Alumni Association's Outstanding Graduate Award, which recognizes an outstanding graduate for his or her commitment to the University and to community service. The Alumni Association Awards Committee, selects the award recipient.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

The University of Louisiana at Lafayette has a reputation for academic excellence, community service and its Ragin' Cajun spirit.

Established in 1898, it is the second-largest university in the state. It has one of the highest graduation rates among Louisiana's public universities.

More than 18,000 students choose UL Lafayette each year. To ensure them a strong academic foundation and the best opportunities to compete in the global job market, University officials regularly review curricula to offer contemporary degrees.

UL Lafayette has been ranked among the best universities in the nation by U.S. News Media Group, which includes U.S. News and World Report, and by The Princeton Review. It is also the most affordable university in Louisiana and among the top 10 percent of most affordable four-year colleges in the United States, according to the U.S. Department of Education.

The University regularly receives support from the National Science Foundation, which funds only the most innovative research. In addition, four faculty have earned the NSF's Early Career Award, given to outstanding scientists and engineers who have potential for leadership in their fields.

Community service is a hallmark of the university experience at UL Lafayette. It is a course requirement for all first-time freshmen, for example. Each academic year, students contribute about 150,000 hours of service as part of University courses. That service has an estimated value of about $3 million.

Some students also participate in UL Lafayette's AmeriCorps Community Service Program. Established in 1995, it is the only campus-based program in the state and is one of the oldest in the nation.

Louisiana's Cajun and Creole cultures are reflected in the University's academics. For example, the archives of the Center for Louisiana Studies include one-of-a-kind recordings of Cajun and Creole music, oral histories and storytelling. UL Press specializes in books related to Louisiana, producing award-winning academic titles as well as best-selling general interest books.

UL Lafayette's Francophone studies doctoral degree program is the only one of its kind in the state. And, students may study Louisiana music to earn a bachelor's degree in traditional music, one of only a handful of such programs nationwide.

The University also has a beautiful, vibrant campus. Cypress Lake, a managed wetland, is shaded by its namesake trees and is home to native Louisiana wildlife, including herons, egrets and alligators. Residence halls offer living-learning communities, where students with similar interests live, study and socialize.

University Seal

The seal was adopted May 11, 1926, when UL Lafayette was still known as Southwestern Louisiana Institute. Dr. Edwin Stephens, the University's first president, helped design it, along with Ellsworth Woodward, director of the Newcomb College art school, and John McBryde, a professor at Tulane University. Elements of the seal reflect Louisiana's history as both a French and Spanish colony. The three fleurs-de-lis refer to France, while the castle denotes Louisiana's connection to Spain. The pelican is symbolic of Louisiana. Oak leaves represent the strength and endurance of the oak tree.

The seal includes the Latin motto "Fortier, Feliciter, Fideliter," which means "bravely, happily, faithfully."

The institution's name was updated in 1960, when it was recognized as a university and became the University of Southwestern Louisiana. In 1999, USL's name was changed to the University of Louisiana at Lafayette to better reflect its stature as the state's second-largest university and an institution with statewide and national – rather than regional – influence. In that same year, the seal was modified to include elements of the Acadian and Creole flags to reflect the University's cultural diversity. The gold star on a white background symbolizes Acadian culture; the red, gold and green stripes represent West African heritage.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

Academic Dress and Heraldry

The academic dress worn by the faculty and administration in the procession today originated in the medieval universities of Europe, where instructors were priests and members of religious orders. Students were clerks in holy orders, monks or priests themselves. In the unheated buildings, they wore habits with cowls, or hoods, that could be pulled over their heads for warmth.

In 1894, a commission of American educators met at Columbia College with the leading supplier of academic robes. They created a dress code that was eventually accepted by almost all universities and colleges in the United States. The code was modified slightly in 1932 and remains in use today.

Typically, degree candidates wear black gowns. At UL Lafayette, bachelor's gowns and doctor's gowns are vermilion; master's gowns are black. The University's distinctive fleur-de-lis is incorporated in the design of its graduation gowns.

Bachelor's gowns have pleated fronts, semi-stiff yokes and pointed sleeves. They are worn closed. The master's gown is worn open, with the forearm protruding through an opening in the long sleeve. The doctor's gown, also worn open, is more formal, with velvet panels around the neck that extend down the front edges. Three horizontal velvet bars are placed on the upper arm of a squared sleeve. The velvet is usually black, but may instead be a color that reflects the academic discipline related to the degree. The mortarboard is the usual headwear.

The most notable feature of academic dress is the hood, reminiscent of the monks' head coverings. The colors of the lining, folded so that they are exposed in the back, are the official colors and pattern of the university from which the individual received a degree. For those who have received a degree from UL Lafayette, for example, the hood is lined in vermilion with a white chevron. The master's hood is three and one half feet long, the doctor's hood, four feet.

The color of the velvet border on the hood indicates the academic discipline of the individual's degree. For example, the Ph.D., or doctor of philosophy degree, is identified by a blue border. You will see that the colors worn by members of the procession at UL Lafayette reflect its academic diversity; faculty have earned advanced degrees from institutions across the United States, as well as abroad.

Fleur-de-lis

UL Lafayette's fleur-de-lis is a federally registered symbol. Historically, the fleur-de-lis has been associated with the French monarchy, and used in other political and religious contexts.

The University has used a fleur-de-lis as part of its identity since 1926, when three fleurs-de-lis were introduced in its seal.

Presidential Regalia

The University president wears a handcrafted medallion, a miniature of the University seal, during Commencement and other formal events. Its chain includes small plates engraved with the names of the institution's presidents.

UL Lafayette President Dr. E. Joseph Savoie also wears a lapel pin that once belonged to Dr. Edwin Stephens, the University's first president, who served from 1900 to 1938. The pin's design features the letters, "SLII," which stand for Southwestern Louisiana Industrial Institute. Stephens gave the pin to Dr. Joel Fletcher, the institution's third president, who served from 1941 to 1966. Fletcher passed it down to his grandson, who gave it to Savoie as an inauguration gift in 2009.

University Ring

UL Lafayette's ring signifies the bond between the University's graduates and their alma mater. The red stone represents the University's primary color, vermilion, and also features its fleur-de-lis. The design incorporates other elements and images of campus life, including cypress and oak trees, the University's seal, and Martin Hall, the main administrative building. Inside each ring is the inscription, "heart and hand" — the final three words of the University's Alma Mater.

DISTINGUISHED PROFESSORS, OUTSTANDING TEACHERS

Each spring, the UL Lafayette Foundation honors exemplary faculty with two awards: its Distinguished Professor Award and the Dr. Ray P. Authement Excellence in Teaching Award.

Charles Richard

Charles Richard, a professor of English, and Dr. Aghalaya Vatsala, a professor of mathematics, were each presented this year's Distinguished Professor Award.

Richard helped establish the University's interdisciplinary Moving Image Arts Program. He is director of the Center for Moving Image Arts and the Joseph P. Montiel/Board of Regents Support Fund Endowed Professor of English.

Vatsala is a prolific researcher and member of the Russian Academy of Nonlinear Sciences. She co-authored a $540,000 grant awarded by the National Science Foundation entitled "Smooth Transition for Advancement to Graduate Education for Underrepresented Minorities in Mathematical Sciences."

Dr. Aghalaya Vatsala

Dr. John Hathorn

John Hathorn, a professor of visual arts, and Dr. John Troutman, an associate professor of history, each received the Dr. Ray P. Authement Excellence in Teaching Award.

Hathorn, who received the Distinguished Professor Award in 2008, teaches painting and drawing. He is also the senior project coordinator for the Department of Visual Arts.

Troutman's research interests include the influence of music on history and public history. He helped develop the University's Museum on the Move, a 1954 Airstream trailer modified for use as a mobile museum.

Award recipients are nominated and chosen by their peers.

The Distinguished Professor Award has been given since 1965. The Excellence in Teaching Award was established in 1992. It was renamed in 2008 to honor former UL Lafayette President Dr. Ray P. Authement.

Dr. John Troutman
